Re: Proposed Protective Order Forms

Dear Chip:

Justice Harriet O'Neill requests that a new matter be given high-priority status at the Supreme Court Advisory Committee's March meeting.

Concerned by studies indicating that victims of domestic abuse do not have ready access to the judicial system, the Supreme Court, in 2003, created a Protective Order Task Force to develop a protective-order kit for use by Texans who cannot afford a lawyer or who would not otherwise have access to the courts. See Order Establishing Protective Order Task Force, dated September 9, 2003, Misc. Docket No. 03-9146.

The Task Force, under the leadership of Stewart W. Gagnon of Houston, has completed its charge and has requested that the Court approve the standardized forms and instructions in the kit to ensure that courts statewide will accept and use them. The Court agrees that approved forms are needed and seeks advise from your committee on the proposed forms.

Therefore, I attach the Task Force's proposed forms and instructions for the committee's careful study. To aide in the this work, I also include the Task Force's Final Report, dated January 5, 2005, and minutes from the Task Force's six meetings.

The deadline on this project is extremely tight. The Court would like to launch the kit during National Crime Victims' Rights Week, April 10-16, with the help of First Lady Anita Perry and Attorney General Greg Abbott. The Court will meet to discuss finally approving the forms during an administrative conference on March 8, 2005.

I apologize for the quick turn around, but the Court leans heavily on the keen insight and invaluable advice of your committee.

Respectfully Submitted,

Lisa Hobbs Rules Attorney

ALL ABOUT PROTECTIVE ORDERS

YOU CAN GET A PROTECTIVE ORDER:

IF There has been violence or threat of violence in your family, household, or in a dating relationship, and violence is likely to occur again.

AGAINST A person related to you by blood (like a parent or brother) or marriage (spouse or in-law), or

A former spouse, or

The other parent of your child, or

Anyone you live with now, or used to live with, or

A current or past boyfriend or girlfriend.

There is no deadline for filing, but try to file soon after the violence or threat.

A PROTECTIVE ORDER CAN:

Protect Against Family Violence

- Order Respondent (the person who hurt you) not to assault or threaten you
- Require Respondent to stay away from you, your children or other family members, your home, where you work, your children's schools
- Limit how Respondent can communicate with you
- Take away Respondent's guns and licenses to carry guns

Respondent can be arrested on the spot for violating any of the above.

Determine Use of Property

• Decide who can use property that you and Respondent have been sharing, such as your house, apartment or car

Spousal Support

Order Respondent to pay you support if you are married to each other

Child-Related Concerns

- Order child support and visitation for children you have with Respondent
- Order supervised visitation and safe places to exchange children

HOW DO YOU GET A PROTECTIVE ORDER?

File an Application

- In the county where you or Respondent live or
- · In the county where your divorce or custody suit is on file

You do not have to pay to file an application for protective order – it is FREE.

Get the Judge to Sign the Temporary Ex Parte Order

- The temporary order provides some protection until the Protective Order hearing
- The Court may order Respondent to leave the home immediately

Set a Date for the Hearing

- · Ask the clerk for help getting a hearing date
- The hearing date should be within two weeks from when you filed your application

Have Respondent Served with Paperwork

- · Ask the clerk's office for help
- Usually a sheriff or constable will give Respondent the papers
- Respondent must be served before a hearing can be held

You do not have to pay for this service - it is FREE.

Prepare for the Hearing

- Get evidence about the violence -- photographs, medical records, torn clothing
- Get evidence about your and Respondent's income and expenses paycheck stubs, bank accounts, tax returns, bills
- If you need advice about child support or visitation call the Family Violence Legal Line (800-374-HOPE)

Show Up for the Hearing

- The judge cannot grant a protective order unless you are there to testify
- Bring people to testify if they know about Respondent's violence or threats, or if you just want them there to give you support-- neighbors, family members, co-workers, police

Have the Judge Sign the Protective Order

- Have an order ready when you show up for the hearing
- Make sure the judge signs the order before you leave the courtroom

WHAT HAPPENS AT THE HEARING?

- · You and your witnesses may testify
- · Respondent may testify, ask you or your witnesses questions, bring other witnesses and evidence
- You can ask Respondent and Respondent's witnesses questions
- The Judge makes decisions at the end of the hearing about the Protective Order

AFTER THE JUDGE SIGNS THE PROTECTIVE ORDER

- Take the Protective Order to the clerk's office and ask for help
- Get copies of the Protective Order and keep one with you at all times
- Show the Order to police if you need their help
- Give copies of the Order to any day care, babysitter, or school
- Call the police if Respondent violates the Protective Order
- Consider safety planning with a counselor at family crisis center or by calling the National Domestic Violence Hotline (800-799-SAFE)

If you need help call the Family Violence Legal Line at 800-374-H⊙PE A service of the Women's Advacacy Project or log on to www.texaslawhelp.org

HOW TO COMPLETE THE APPLICATION FOR PROTECTIVE ORDER

The clerk at the courthouse will put a number in the blank at the top of the form when you file the Application. This will be the case number for all papers filed in your case. The clerk will also put the name or number in the blank for the court.

Print your name in the blank for Applicant, the name of the person you want protection from in the blank for Respondent, and the name of the county where you are filing these papers.

VI PARTIES

Applicant is you. Print your full name and the county where you live.

Respondent is the other person, the person you want protection from. Print that person's full name and county. Respondent's address for service is where Respondent lives, works, or regularly spends time.

Check all the boxes that apply to you and Respondent.

- Applicant and Respondent are or have been members of the same family or household. Check this box if you and Respondent live together, used to live together, or are related by blood or marriage.
- Applicant and Respondent are parents of the same child(ren). Check this box if you and Respondent have children together.
- Applicant and Respondent are former spouses. Check this box if you and Respondent are divorced from each other. If you check this box, you must either attach a copy of your divorce decree to the application or take it to the hearing. Check the box that says how you are giving the court your decree.
- Applicant and Respondent are or have been in a dating relationship. Check this box if you date or dated Respondent, but are not married to each other.
- * Applicant is an adult seeking to protect the Children named below from family violence, child abuse, or dating violence. Check this box if there are children to be protected. Then list the children in the next section.

CHILDREN. Applicant seeks protection for the following Children:

List all the children you want to protect from Respondent and the county where they live. If you have more than four children that need protection, list them on a separate sheet of paper and staple it to this Application.

If you have a court order for any of the children, you must either attach a copy of the order to the application or take it to the hearing. Check the box that says how you are giving the court your order.

OTHER ADULTS. Applicant seeks protection for the following Other Adults, who are or have been members of Applicant's family or household:

List any other adults who need protection from Respondent, like your parents, brothers, sisters, friends, or roommates, and the county where they live.

GROUNDS FOR PROTECTIVE ORDER

Check the first box if Respondent has hurt or threatened to hurt you or your children.

Check the second box if you had a protective order and Respondent violated it. If you check this box, you must either attach a copy of the protective order to the application or take it to the hearing. Check the box that says how you are giving the court the order.

REQUEST FOR PROTECTIVE ORDER - Preventing Family Violence

Check the boxes for what you want the court to order Respondent to do or not to do.

If you check the 4th box in this section, you will need to print the name of a person you trust who can talk to Respondent for you.

The box about Respondent having guns is already checked because it is required by law.

If you want the court to order anything else to protect you, print it on the blank lines at the end of this section.

REQUEST FOR PROTECTIVE ORDER - Use of Property

Fill out this section only if there is property you want the court to give you or protect for you.

The court can give you temporary use of a home for up to the two years that a protective order is in effect, but only if one of the following is true:

- Where you live is owned or rented by both you and Respondent; OR
- Where you live is owned or rented only by you; OR
- Respondent is obligated to support you or your children because you and Respondent are married, or Respondent is a parent of your children.

If you want temporary use of the home, check the box that applies to your case, and check the box that says "Awarding Applicant the exclusive possession of the Residence."

If Respondent is still living there, check the box that asks for help from law enforcement in getting Respondent out of the home.

You can ask for temporary use of other property, such as a car or furniture, if you and Respondent are married or bought the property together. Check the next box and list the property on the blank lines.

Check the next box to protect property from harm by Respondent.

REQUEST FOR PROTECTIVE ORDER - Spousal Support

If you and Respondent are married, you can ask for financial support from Respondent.

REQUEST FOR PROTECTIVE ORDER -Child-Related Concerns

Fill out this section only if you and Respondent are parents of the same children.

The court can order child support and visitation for up to the two years that a protective order is in effect.

Check the boxes for what you want the court to order.

REQUEST FOR TEMPORARY EX PARTE PROTECTIVE ORDER

This box is checked so that you can get a protective order right away that lasts for up to 14 days, or until the hearing.

REQUEST FOR EX PARTE ORDER TO IMMEDIATELY VACATE RESIDENCE

Fill out this section only if you want Respondent immediately kicked out of a home you share. You can ask the court to order Respondent to be kicked out if:

Respondent has hurt or threatened to hurt you or your children in the past thirty days; AND

You are living in the home OR have lived in the home in the past thirty days.

REQUEST TO KEEP INFORMATION CONFIDENTIAL

Check this box if you want the court to keep your whereabouts and contact information a secret from Respondent.

FEES AND COSTS

This box is checked because the law says Respondent must pay costs.

Sign your name on the line above "APPLICANT, PRO SE."

If you need help call the Family Violence Legal Line at 800-374-HOPE A service of the Women's Advocacy Project or log on to www.texaslawhelp.org

HOW TO COMPLETE THE AFFIDAVIT FOR TEMPORARY EX PARTE PROTECTIVE ORDER

Wait to fill in the name of the county until you sign the Affidavit in front of a Notary Public. Print your full name.

In the first box on the Affidavit, describe the most recent time family violence (including threats of violence) happened. If Respondent violated a prior protective order, describe what happened when the order was violated.

Print the date of the incident you are describing.

Then describe what happened. If you need additional room, use blank white paper. Print your full name on the top of all additional pages you use and staple all of them to the Application.

Was a weapon involved? Check yes if Respondent had a weapon during this incident of violence. Say what the weapon was, for example, a gun, kitchen knife, or bat.

Were any children present? Check yes if any children were present when this incident of violence happened. List the names of the children who were there.

Did you call the police? Check yes if you called the police to report this violence, even if it was a while after the incident.

Did you seek medical treatment? Check yes if you saw a doctor, nurse, paramedic, hospital, etc. because you were hurt in some way by this violence. Describe when, who you saw, and what treatment you received.

Has this person ever threatened or hurt you before? If Respondent has ever hurt or threatened you at any other time, describe it in the second box on the Affidavit. Follow the above directions you just used to describe the first incident.

Signature Section

DO NOT SIGN THE AFFIDAVIT YET. You must wait and sign the Affidate before filing this Application with the clerk. You should be able to find a Note
